Claudio Bonaccorsi was born in 1961. An amateur photographer, after a long time of experimentation with his analogical photography, he begins in 2005 his adventure with his fox-glove.

In his many clicks we can perceive a style very close to the painting, a skill he has achieved since many years.

He is the winner of several national and international competitions, even though he won more prizes and awards, in national than in international field. He participated in many expositions in Italy and abroad.

His pictures have been published in several magazines, catalogues and art and photography books.
